

Faculty and keynote speakers

Maximo Ibarra
CEO, Wind Tre

Ben Rogers
CSW, Journalist at The Guardian, expert of human rights in Burma and North Korea

Alberto Ribera
Senior Lecturer of Managing People in Organizations IESE Business School

Nino Vaccaro
Director of the Social Entrepreneurship Platform, IESE Business School

July 24 - 31, 2017
Centro Internazionale
Calarossa

Working to make the difference

14th Calarossa Summer School

Calarossa Summer School provides an international and interdisciplinary environment to discuss about the role of values in professional life.

Immersed in the scenario of Calarossa bay, participants will engage in teamwork and case study discussions on the ethics of work in media, finance, international business and international organizations. Students will get together with outstanding professionals to debate the link between service and excellence and to learn how to build a career with social impact.

The packed 7 days program includes sport and leisure activities and two days of sightseeing in Western Sicily: Agrigento Valley of the Temples, Palermo, Monreale or Selinunte.

Enjoy the alchemy that results from a community of students with acumen, passion and commitment to make the difference.

The Summer School starts on July 24th at 7 pm. The full cost, including accommodation, meals, materials and sightseeing programs, is 440 euros (single room) or 390 euros (shared room). A limited amount of scholarships covering up to 50% of the registration fee are available for international students in financial need. A taxi service from and to Palermo International Airport will be provided.

To apply please send an email to direzione.rui@fondazionerui.it

ARCES - Centro Internazionale Calarossa, Via Calarossa, 68, 90049 Terrasini (Palermo)

A project by

In collaboration with

